

Law That Governs Carrying of Weapons

Chapter 172—An act to regulate by license the carrying of concealed weapons.

Section 1—The justice of a court * * * may issue a license to * * * carry a loaded pistol or revolver in this Commonwealth, if it appears that the applicant has good reason to fear an injury to his person or property, and that he is a suitable person to be so licensed.

Section 2—Whoever * * *

carries * * * a loaded pistol or revolver, without authority,
* * * or whoever carries any stiletto, dagger, dirk knife, stung

Upon conviction be punished by a fine of not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

COMMERCE

BOARD DIVIDES

UP ITS WORK

WASHINGTON, April 9.—In order to handle more easily the business opened before it, the Interstate Commerce Commission has divided the United States into six districts.

The chairman of the commission has assigned one of his colleagues to each district to have charge of the correspondence and minor cases coming up for determination.

Commissioner Clements—Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi.

Commissioner Prouty — Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey.

Commissioner Lane—California, Nevada, Oregon, Washington, Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, Arizona, Oklahoma, Ne-

Commissioner Harlan—Illinois, Indiana,

GUNPOWDER IN AUTO WRECKED BY EXPLOSION

C. E. Moore of Boston Ready to Spend $5,000 to Find the Culprit

WORCESTER, April 9.—(Claiming that he found a quantity of gangster loot) a shoebox on the $3,500 touring car which he had just bought from Arthur J. Javery, who is conducting a garage at 100 North Main street, on April 5, Charles J. Benson, who conducts a grain store in that city, told the Worcester Telegram and Gazette. Benson said he had been the chauffeur of the car which exploded in the city street last night. He said he employed, says he will spend $5,000 if necessary, to get the car repaired.

Javery said that since he found two tin snips and a quantity of tools and two tin snips of power in some of the boxes, he had called the police and that the big touring car was blown up by a bomb.

Javery, who was handling the car at the time it was blown up, said he was in attendance at his home, No. 18 Chandler street, at the time the explosion occurred. He said he had just received a box of tools from a man who had cracked, and a long rip on the front and back of the car, and a hole in the side of the fender, and which took three days to patch.

Javery had been in Webster, one day before the explosion, and had returned to his home in Nashua, who had traded for the car, and had been in the city since, which would accommodate twenty persons.

Javery met the man, delivered the new car to him, and said he had been in the second-hand machine, and got the Worcester Telegram and Gazette.
